TO-DAY'S ANNIVERSARIES

Born: Pindar, 1818 B. C. Chateaubriand, 1768. Died: Robert Dudley, earl of Leicester, 1558. John James Heidegger, 1740. Charles J. F. Fisher, secretary of the treasury, 1884. Franco-Prussian war, 1870. Cyclone, Cuba, 1,000 killed, 1888.

It begins to look as if Billy Mahone, of Virginia, will make the bourbon duce to his music this fall.

It should not take long to get a Chicago jury in the Cronin case. There are lots of ignorant people in that city.

Dispatches from New Orleans indicate the election of Andrew Price, democrat, to congress in the third Louisiana district, over the republican nominee, H. O. Minor. A republican deputy sheriff was shot in Franklin during the excitement of the election in the afternoon. The democrat, not content with their campaign of negro intimidation, proclaimed in favor of protection, and denounced the free trade doctrines of the Mills bill.

A contributor to the September number of the Scribner magazine proves from an examination of the figures standing for the entire passenger traffic in the United States for 1887 that a traveler might have gone 51,000,000 miles by rail before being killed or 12,000,000 before being injured. It looks from this as if going off somewhere continually is safer than staying at home. "Therefore," he concludes, "a person who wishes to take good care of himself will spend all his time on the cars."

Next, a bread trust—not in this country, where some people imagine that protection fosters trusts, but in free trade England. Summary of the largest trading companies of London have begun the organization of a bread union, and their avowed object is "to effectually stifle the competition of unscrupulous traders who may be bent upon reducing prices." It is in order for ex-President Cleveland to explain how this monstrous monopoly of the people's supply of bread, can be even contemplated in a country where with each other wheat flour or bread in any form. —New York Tribune.

Will some kind friend of the late democratic administration please send this item on the bread trust to Grover Cleveland, New York?

As a protectionist candidate for Governor on a free trade platform, the Hon. James E. Campbell, of Ohio, should call in the assistance of Brother Grady, the protectionist editor of a paper supporting a democratic free trade policy. They can sympathize with each other when they get left. —Indianapolis Journal.

The democratic campaign in Ohio is a funny arrangement. They adopted a free trade platform and nominated a democratic protectionist to catch votes. In 1884, when the national democratic convention made a doubleheaded platform, the New York Times said the candidate was more important than the platform; but not wishing to break with the democrats of Ohio now that they have a free trade platform and a protectionist candidate, the Times insists in 1890, that the platform is of more importance than the man. It is pleasant to notice that the Times can accommodate itself to any circumstances in which the democratic party places itself.

THE GREAT LONDON STRIKE.

The London strike, says the Inter Ocean, increases in the number of interests affected by it, and in the number of men engaged in it. A congress of trades unions assembled at Dundee, Scotland, has adopted resolutions of sympathy with the men who are striking to better their condition, and Mr. Gladstone has done something more than express sympathy by words; he has written a check on his bankers for the relief of the strikers. The thought of multitudes of men compelled to resort to the last resource of organized labor in order to obtain the rate of 12 cents per hour for the severest form of manual labor comes unpleasantly to people who have been educating themselves in the belief of an improved condition of society. And sympathy with the workmen is increased by yesterday's telegram, which informs us that the London Dock Company, one of the richest corporations in the world, not content with large profits derived from regular sources, has been charging ship owners twenty cents per hour for the labor which it hired at 10. If the company can collect 20 cents for labor, surely it ought to pay 12. But the question arises as to whether it is good policy to allow a great corporation to make this direct profit upon labor, in addition to the vast profits derived from its regular investment of capital. It is an evil which, so far as we are aware, has not yet taken root in America, and it is an evil to the abatement of which the energies of the British parliament are likely to be summoned.

IT IS NEITHER DEAD NOR SLUMBERING.

If any one of our democratic friends think that the old confederate spirit is dead in the south, or that it is slumbering, they are deceived. There are more rebel Jacks than one to weep over the confederate flag, even in 1890. The other day there was a resolution before the Georgia legislature authorizing the sale of the old capitol building. Among the speeches made against the resolution was one by Senator Gibbs—a man who never wants his children to forget that Jefferson Davis was a patriot during the civil war. The senator gave vent to his feelings in the following manner:

There seems to be a mania with this legislature to sell the property of the state for whatever it will bring. I say stop ere you depose the state. Every nation has its place to preserve the relics of the war, and it is time that we should have such a place when our children are

SNOW SAVED THE FORESTS

MONTANA'S RAVAGING FIRES EXTINGUISHED.

Much Valuable Timber Destroyed—A Cargo of Kerosene Afloat—The Day's Casualty Record.

HELENA, M. T., Sept. 4.—The forest fires which have been raging in the mountains for the last six weeks are now supposed to have been extinguished. By the rain and snow which fell last night, in the vicinity of Elliston and Ten Miles snow to the depth of four to six inches covers the ground. The first range heavily Saturday and Sunday. Fifteen hundred people, it is estimated, turned out at Elliston and other places to fight the fire. Many came out with scorched faces, burned clothing, and bloodshot eyes. The fire still smolders in the trunks of trees and may take a fresh start if the wind rises. Many bridges have been burned, as well as miners' cabins.

The snow fall saved the town of Jay Gould and the gold and mining property there. The fire at Ten Miles was disastrous. Sturrock & Brown's saw mill is a mass of ruins. The timber in that section was fir, cedar, and pine, and was said to be the finest forest in Montana. Hundreds of the trees were four feet thick at the trunk. There was one pile of logs which stood twenty feet high and 300 feet long. The area burned is very large and the occupation of the woodmen in that section is gone forever, as everything is burned to ashes.

A Cargo of Kerosene Afloat. New York, Sept. 4.—Early this morning fire was discovered in the hold of the ship Bay of Naples, lying off Bedloe's island and bound for Hongkong, India, with a cargo of kerosene oil. The Bay of Naples is a British ship, commanded by Capt. Thompson. The kerosene and kerosene lamps were burning down to Governor's island and beached her. Meanwhile the patrol boat arrived, and soon four powerful streams were pouring on the burning oil. Half an hour's work sufficed to put sixteen feet of water in the ship's hold, effectually extinguishing the flames. The Bay of Naples is still aground, and is a full-rigged ship, and is probably worth $70,000.

Fatal Steam-Pipe Explosion.

CHICAGO, Sept. 4.—An explosion at the Union rolling mills at Bridgeport this morning resulted in the death of Owen Bougie. The unfortunate man was a roofer and was making some repairs on the roof of one of the buildings when a steam pipe exploded. A portion of the pipe struck him and threw him from the roof to the ground, a distance of about twenty-five feet. He was badly injured that he died very soon after the accident.

Killed by Gas in a Well.

ST. HELENA, Cal., Sept. 3.—Will McPike, brother of ex-United States District Attorney Henry C. McPike, was overcome by poisonous gas in a well and fell into the water. Martin Hickey went to his assistance and was also overcome. Lou Davis succeeded in getting a rope around Hickey's body, narrowly escaping death himself.

Fatal Collision on the Reading Road.

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Sept. 4.—A hand-truck carrying a dozen or more Italian laborers was struck on the Reading railroad near Luck by a freight train and all its occupants were hurled high into the air. Giuseppe Planello, aged 32, was crushed to a pulp and five others were severely hurt.

Floods in Mexico.

CITY OF MEXICO, Sept. 4.—Floods in the vicinity of Mexico and Vera Cruz are causing much damage. The prices of food are rising all over the country owing to the heavy rains. Washouts have delayed travel on the Mexican Central railroad.

Two Children Burned to Death.

BLUE SPRINGS, Neb., Sept. 4.—Two children of David Gay were burned to death to-day. They were playing in the barn of the Rev. Andrews, and in some way set it on fire, perishing in the flames.

EDMUND YATES' CABLE.

The Prince of Wales' Leg Still Talked About—The Queen Again Mentioned. New York, Sept. 5.—Edmund Yates' London cable to the Tribune says: "The Prince of Wales is much improved. His leg is much better and he is barely lame now."

"The Welsh papers express much pleasure at the Queen's having spoken Welsh on more than one occasion. The Queen appreciates the value of even the most elementary knowledge of the tongues of the many people over whom she reigns. Five or six years ago she began to study the Welsh language seriously, and her knowledge of it is now considerable. She can converse and read and write in it with a good deal of fluency. Indian servants whom the Queen has about her always speak it and one of them gives her lessons. While the Duke and Duchess of Connaught were in England nothing else was spoken during certain hours of the day, and the Duchess, who is a very fair Hindostanee scholar, acted as interpreter between the Queen and her master whenever a hitch occurred."

CREDITORS VIOLENT.

Great Excitement in Southwest Iowa Over the Lenox Bank Failure. CRENSHAW, Iowa, Sept. 4.—The failure of the banking house of L. S. Brooks of Lenox, Iowa, yesterday, caused much excitement here, and it has been increasing hourly. Brooks and his cashier have been arrested, and a crowd of the depositors of the bank has threatened them with personal violence, but there is little danger of anything but talk. Several depositors say they questioned Brooks and his cashier about the bank's soundness within the last few days, and being assured that the bank was sound, they deposited their money, even after banking hours on Saturday. Attachments have been levied upon all of Brooks' property. The sheriff found the bank vaults empty of cash. Brooks says he will pay, but the creditors are not hopeful. Congressman J. P. Flick and other attorneys have been retained by the creditors to fight the case through the courts.

Abolitionists to Hold a Reunion.

BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 4.—The reunion of the abolitionists will be held Sept. 13 in Tremont temple to celebrate the anniversary of the issuing of the emancipation proclamation. A thousand delegates have been sent out to anti-slavery men throughout the country.

The Shah Shaken Up.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 4.—A train carrying the Shah of Persia was derailed yesterday near Bar, several cars being thrown into the track. The Shah was injured, and after a brief delay, the Shah proceeded on his way and arrived at Ellsbetgrad.

Dr. B. MINER, the eminent optician of Detroit, Mich., will visit every town in this county during the summer. Any one suffering with weak eyes, or eyes abused by inferior glasses, should not fail to see him. Orders left at the post-office will be promptly attended to. No extra charge for examining or visiting patients at their homes.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Mrs. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used for children teething. It soothes the inflamed gum, cures the child, all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. 25c a bottle.

BEEF MEN UNDER FIRE.

Testimony Showing That the Dressed-Beef Firms Work in Concert.

CHICAGO, Sept. 4.—Possibly Nelson Vest and his associates on the beef commission on the inquiry which may develop something of genuine interest. The last witness of the session yesterday gave evidence which had an especial point to it. A number of commission men and cattle dealers had been on the stand repeating to some extent what had already been said, when Mr. F. G. Rowland, a resident of Chicago, a resident of the office of Nelson Morris & Co., was sworn in. He said this firm had connection with the other dressed-beef firms of the city—Armour & Co., Swift & Co., and Hammond—so far as to make a joint agreement to maintain the price of dressed meats in seven States. Witness could not name the States or give the prices to be maintained, but he said it was a combination of all the dressed-beef firms, and common prices were fixed. Outside of the particular States they were at liberty to charge what they pleased.

Mr. Rowland also testified that a member of the firm of Fairbank & Co. told him not to go before the committee—that it was unnecessary. He explained that Fairbank & Co. is the other name of Nelson Morris & Co. Charles H. Ingersoll, a cattle dealer, gave the commission some information as to weights and values. He said a steer weighing 1,200 pounds on the hoof would net from 55 to 65 pounds of meat—a range of 53 to 61 per cent. There was always a difference in the price of natives and rangers, and the price was also affected by whether the cattle were fed on corn or grass. Native cattle were fed on corn or grass. Native cattle were fed on corn or grass. Native cattle were fed on corn or grass.

Dyspepsia

Makes many lives miserable, and often leads to self destruction. Dives after eating, sick headache, heartburn, sour stomach, mental depression, etc., are caused by this very common and increasing disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla tones the stomach, creates an appetite, promotes healthy digestion, relieves sick headache, clears the mind, and cures the most obstinate cases of dyspepsia. Read the following:
"I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. In an hour after eating I would experience a faintness or tired, allgone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything.
Hood's Sarsaparilla did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced. I relieved me of that faint, tired, allgone feeling. I have felt so much better since I took Hood's Sarsaparilla, that I am happy to recommend it." C. A. PAOR, Watertown, Mass.

LONDON POLICE ARMED.

REVOLVERS GIVEN TO OFFICERS

IN THE STRIKE DISTRICT.

Trouble Evidently Fanned by the Authorities—The Men Standing Firm and No Serious Outrages Reported.

LONDON, Sept. 4.—There are no signs yet of a termination of the strike. The determined and menacing action of the strikers and intimidated outsiders, and the refusal of the men from going to work in any considerable number on the docks. The negotiations entered upon by the wharfinger and shipping merchants on behalf of the strikers with the dock companies have not been satisfactory progress. The application of shipping companies to load and unload their vessels at the docks with men hired by themselves on one or two terms has been refused by the dock companies.

The dock directors have, on the other hand, suggested the formation of a joint committee representing, the two interests, but, though the committee has been appointed, it will not take any action till some adjustment of the strike takes place.

The shipping companies have hitherto stood by the strikers, but the men say they are determined not to be sold out. They declare that they are perfectly organized, and as contributions are coming in freely not only from London, but from the provinces, colonies and foreign countries, the relief is more efficiently distributed and now reaches those who were about to accept work in consequence of their distress.

They say they are on the whole in better condition to hold out than ever. The officers of the dock companies, however, propose to be confident of the result.

At the beginning of the strike the police started out this morning in the East End district armed with revolvers. This certainly indicates that the Scotland Yard men who have been for a week mingling with the strikers and overhauling their plans have reported danger ahead, and that some trouble is looked for. Withstanding this precaution the city appeared more quiet this morning than it did yesterday, and the strikers manifested less impatience than for some days past. This was undoubtedly due to the knowledge that their leaders were still considering a proposition made by the wharfingers last night, and which may be accepted at any moment and the strike declared off. In anticipation of this event the men remain quiet, but it can easily be seen that their assumed resignation a giant of unrest is hidden, and that an announcement of the failure of the pending negotiations will be at once followed by deeds of savage vengeance upon their supposed oppressors.

Dock Laborers at Liverpool.

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 4.—The dock laborers here engaged on the grain and flour ships have demanded an advance of a shilling a day. The demands have been refused and the men have quit work. Agitation has begun among other branches of dock men and the strike threatens to spread.

APACHES WELL CARED FOR.

Secretary Proctor Will Not Shut Them
Out of Mount Vernon Barracks.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—It is not probable that the War Department will take any steps in the matter of removing the Apaches from Mount Vernon Barracks, Alaska. Secretary Proctor said this morning that there is a mandatory statute providing for the confinement of these Indians at some Government barracks and there is no better place than where they now are. The Indian Rights association has made a proposition to purchase a large tract of land in North Carolina to which the Indians could be removed, and where they could live in partial freedom, headed by that old warrior Geronimo, but Secretary Proctor is not disposed to act until he has the proposition submitted to him. He said the proposition was submitted to him, but he has not yet decided. In fact, it would seem that he is inclined to think the tribe is pretty well cared for now.

Seeking Montezuma's Treasures.

CITY OF MEXICO, Sept. 4.—Extensive excavations are being made at the suburban town of Coyacan. The object is to recover, if possible, the treasure of the only short-hand school in Janesville that has graduates filling situations. Circulars free.

We have had personal knowledge of the capacity of Miss E. L. Williams as a writer of both English and German, and as a teacher of shorthand, and take pleasure in recommending her as competent to teach either system.

Little Johnny Murphy, the bottlebeater for Kilrain, was thunderstruck when he heard the sentence. "Well," he said, "looks like if we will all have to take the same medicine, I think we will serve five years if the authorities will get Mitchell and Pony Moore and then a roast."

Parson Davies was not surprised John L. being sentenced. He said he need not have been caught in that trap. He had taken the advice of a prominent gentleman of Mississippi. Before the fight the man advised them to get around on the charge that they intended to pull a misdemeanor. They would Hay Fever.

I have been a great sufferer from fever for 15 years. I read of the wondrous cures of Ely's Cream Balm thought I would try it. In fifteen minutes after one application I was fully helped. Two weeks ago I renewed using it and now I feel entirely cured. It is the greatest medical discovery ever known or heard of. — Mel Clark Lee, Mass.
